WARMLY WELCOMED.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain at Durban, Natal.

A Frank Speech Delivered By Him Intended to Allay the Fears and Gain the Confidence of the Burghers.

Durban, Natal, Dec. 27.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain, who left Portsmouth, Eng., November 25, on board the armored cruiser Goodhope, landed here at 10:30 Friday morning. They received a warm welcome from crowds of people.

The long speeches made by Mr. Chamberlain in the course of the reception functions were notable for their strong tone of conciliation and his expression of confidence in Lord Milner, British high commissioner in South Africa. Bearing in mind seemingly the rumors that his visit would lead to the displacement of Lord Milner, Mr. Chamberlain declared his belief that his visit would have the effect of strengthening the hand of Lord Milner, who, he hoped, would be as great in conciliation as he had been in the maintenance of the rights of the empire.

Referring to the war, the Colonial secretary said the Dutch and the British had fought in courageous rivalry. Between the two races not kindred in origin or nature, such a struggle for supremacy had been inevitable. From that struggle two proud and kindred races would grow in mutual respect, appreciation and lasting friendship.

"Victor and vanquished," said Mr. Chamberlain, "bravely played their parts. We scorn to glory in our triumph; the enemy need fear no humiliations in their defeat. Let us see as Britons worthy of the name, that nothing be done to revive the animosities of the past. We must give our new fellows equality of position with ourselves. We ask, however, something in return. It is with them that the issues lies. We hold out our hand and ask them to take it without thought of the past, but frankly and in the spirit in which it is offered."

Mr. Chamberlain elaborated his theme with eloquence and was loudly encored. He announced incidentally the acceptance of the Boer offer to fight in Somaliland.

ALEX GRAHAM BELL.

Gives An Idea of a Properly Constructed Flying Machine.

Washington, Dec. 27.—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, who has just returned to Washington from his summer home in Cape Breton island, Friday night made the following statement in connection with reports that have appeared in the public prints that he has invented a flying machine:

The newspapers have been premature in announcing that I have been at work upon a flying machine. I have not any flying machine at all and have not been trying to make one. I am, of course, interested in the problem, and have come to the conclusion that a properly constructed flying machine should be capable of being flown as a kite if anchored to the ground, and that conversely a properly constructed kite should be capable of use as a flying machine provided with suitable means of propulsion.

"My experiments have had as their object the building of a kite of solid construction capable of carrying up in a moderate breeze a weight equivalent to that of a man and engine, and so found that it could be suitable for use as the body of a flying machine and with supporting surfaces so arranged that when the kite is cut loose it will come down gently and steadily and land uninjured. I have successfully accomplished this, but do not care at the present time to make public the details of construction."

THE ISLAND OF GUAM.

Annual Report of Commander Seaton Schroeder.

Washington, Dec. 27.—The annual report of Commander Seaton Schroeder, governor of the Island of Guam, which is dated July 16, and which has just reached the navy department, owing to the failure of congress to appropriate the sum asked for last year. The receipts last year were in round numbers $66,000 and the expenditures $57,000, leaving a balance of $8,000, which, however, is a decrease of over $12,000 in the cash balance for the preceding year. This loss is due largely to the unexpected expenses incident to the establishment of the leper colony and the decrease of over $10,000 in import duties.

Commander Schroeder reports that it has been deemed prudent to stop all work of public improvement until further appropriations are made. The value of exports and imports during the year have been respectively $35,549 and $35,165. The exports consist almost entirely of Mexican dollars. Not a pound of copper has been exported, and neither cocoa or coffee has been produced in sufficient quantities to supply the home market, owing to the slow recoveries from the effects of the hurricane of 1900.

The governor recommends that if a Philippine silver dollar of fixed value is to be coined under the laws of the United States, that it be made legal tender also in Guam in place of the present Mexican dollar. The census of the island taken last autumn shows the total population to be 9,676, of whom only 46 are foreigners, 14 being citizens of the United States. The latter does not include officers and men of the navy or other civil employes temporarily imported from the United States. Above the age of 7, 46 per cent. of the natives read and write Spanish. He says that the natives still continue to refuse to allow their sick to receive medical attention, but that conditions are improving, an excess of births over deaths being shown for each of the last two years.

Commander Schroeder says that there are now 24 lepers in seclusion at Tumon bay. The governor recommends improvements in facilities for education and also that the laws for the government of the islands should be remodeled and modified. The governor says there is a desire for United States citizenship among persons domiciled in the island. He calls attention to the case of Pedro M. Duarte at present the auditor of the island. He occupies an anomalous position. He was an officer in the Spanish army who resigned after the war and who obtained an acceptance of renunciation of allegiance. The result is that to-day he is a citizen of no country.

Ashkabad, Russian Turkestan, Dec. 27.—The oscillations of the earth at Andijan continues. The people there are using railroad cars to live in so they are not leaving town on account of their business interests. Committees have been appointed to prepare lists of the losses to life and property. In the Andijan district 15,000 houses were destroyed. Until the shocks cease, guards will be kept on the railroad between Fedobenks and Andijan to watch for fissures along the line. The railroad station at Andijan threatens to collapse. WILL PAY HER DEBTS.

Guarantees Them By a Percentage on Customs Receipts.

It Is Understood Venezuela Will Make Any Concessions, Even Abandoning Her Demand That Her Navy Be Returned.

Caracas, Dec. 29.—United States Minister Bowen and Lopez Baralt, Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs, held a long conference Saturday night. Mr. Bowen, on receiving instructions from Washington, conveyed to Senor Baralt President Roosevelt's refusal to act as arbitrator in the Venezuelan difficulty. He recommended that the matter be taken to the international peace court at The Hague, which had been expressly organized to consider questions in which the honor of a country or the disposition of territory were not concerned. He suggested the organization of a commission to sit in Washington by their ambassadors to the United States and Venezuela by a delegate. The commission is to sign a document setting forth the matters to be decided at The Hague court. Mr. Bowen said also that Germany would not press for an immediate payment and that she has agreed to accept a guarantee based on a percentage of the customs receipts.

As a result of this conference Senor Baralt telegraphed President Castro to return from La Victoria. The president will reach here Monday and Venezuela's answer to the foregoing proposal will be given then.

It is understood that Venezuela will make any concessions, even abandoning her demand that her navy be returned. Through the Venezuelan delegate to the commission the Venezuelan government will ask that the blockade be lifted at once. Senor Baralt has expressed the desire that Mr. Bowen represent Venezuela on the commission, if Mr. Bowen can not accept the post it is suggested in official circles that it be given to W. W. Russell, secretary to the American legation.

Senor Baralt has prepared the following statement for the public:

"Venezuela agrees to pay all her debts, the payments to be guaranteed by a certain percentage of the customs receipts or by the floatation of a special loan, also to be guaranteed. I believe the proposal to submit the issues to The Hague will be acceptable to President Castro. I am sorry that President Roosevelt was unable to act as arbitrator."

Willemstad, Curacao, Dec. 29.—The Venezuelan revolutionists have resumed active hostilities against President Castro. There occurred Saturday morning a lively engagement between 1,200 revolutionists, under Gen. Riera, and government forces at Canyawao, in the vicinity of Coro. Details of the engagement are lacking, but it is known here that the revolutionists had artillery. The government forces were commanded by Gen. Referno Castillo. Gen. Riera retained his position.

The armistice between the government and the revolutionists has just expired.

News has reached here from an authoritative source in Caracas that Vicente Gomez, first vice president of the republic, intends to carry out a bold strategic stroke against President Castro.

Gen. Zolio Vidal and five other leading supporters of Gen. Matos, who had sought refuge here, left the island of Curacao early Saturday morning in a sailboat, which took them in the direction of Cumarebo near Coro, on the Venezuelan coast. The departure of these men is taken as proof that the revolt against President Castro is again active.

POISONED WINE.

One Man Is Dead and Woman and Daughter Made Sick.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Poisoned, it is charged, by means of a bottle of wine given as a Christmas present, Richard Cummings, 50 years of age, died Sunday at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Shanahan, 1228 Ashland avenue, where he was boarding. William Moniak, his wife, Mrs. Theresa Moniak, and their 14-year-old daughter, Mary, of 4226 Ashland avenue, were arrested Sunday on suspicion of having poisoned Cummings.

A bitter quarrel is said to have taken place between Cummings and Mrs. Shanahan, on one side, and the Moniaks on the other. The wine, according to the story told the police, was given to Mrs. Shanahan by Mary Moniak, on behalf of her parents, as a peace offering. Mrs. Shanahan drank some of it and said she suffered from severe pains soon afterward. She offered some of the wine to her niece, who complained that it tasted bitter. Cummings drank the remainder and died 24 hours later.

"I have been poisoned by that bottle of wine and want the people who gave it to me arrested," were the last words to Mrs. Shanahan. Dr. William T. Kirby who attended him, received a similar statement.

An examination of Cumming's stomach will be made Monday. Moniak and his wife deny that they had any knowledge of poison being in the wine.

DEATH OF MRS. FREMONT.

The Wife of the "Pathfinder" Passed Away at the Age of 78 Years.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 29.—Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont, widow of Gen. Fremont, who died Saturday night at her home at 1107 West Twenty-eighth street in this city, was 78 years of age. Mrs. Fremont was taken ill on Christmas. She grew rapidly worse and lapsed into unconsciousness from which she never rallied. For three years the aged widow of the "Pathfinder" had been extremely feeble as a result of a fall in which she suffered dislocation of the hip, which has since prevented her from walking. A naturally strong constitution was impaired by the shock of the fall and recently Mrs. Fremont required the attendance of a trained nurse, her advanced years aiding the gradual decline of her strength. Mrs. Fremont was the daughter of Thomas H. Benton, for 30 years a senator in the United States senate.

STRUCK A ROCK.

The Army Transport Sherman Damaged South of Luzon.

Manila, Dec. 29.—The United States army transport Sherman struck a rock near San Bernandino light, south of Luzon, Friday night. The steamer proceeded for Manila under her own steam and arrived here Sunday.

When the Sherman struck the passengers on board were terrified, but there was no disorder. They promptly took their stations, with life preservers on, in the small boats. The officers of the Sherman handled the situation splendidly. Her cargo was not damaged. It probably will be necessary for her to dock at Hong-Kong.

A TERRIBLE WRECK.

Twenty-Eight Killed and Many Hurt on a Canadian Road.

The Operator Who Failed to Deliver the Order to the Conductor Says It Was Cancelled by the Dispatcher.

London, Ont., Dec. 29.—There were no deaths Sunday among the persons injured in Friday night's collision at Wanstead, on the Sarnia branch of the Grand Trunk railroad between Pacific express No. 5, westbound, and an eastbound freight, in which 28 persons lost their lives. At Victoria hospital several of the injured are still in a serious condition but it is expected that all will recover. The body of Fireman Ricketts, of the express train, which was Saturday night believed to be buried under the wrecked engines, was found Sunday covered with snow in the ditch beside the track. One arm was completely torn off and the body was otherwise mangled. Death must have been instantaneous.

Andrew Carson, the operator at Watford, the first station east of the wreck, whose failure to deliver orders to Conductor McAuliffe, of the Pacific express, to pass the freight at Wanstead, is said by the Grand Trunk officials to have caused the wreck, Sunday afternoon made his first statement since the wreck. He says he received the order for No. 5, the express, to pass the freight at Wanstead at 8 o'clock, but declares positively that a few minutes later Dispatcher J. G. Kerr at London called him and ordered him to "bust" or cancel the order. He said: "About 8:54 after calling Wyoming and ascertaining that the freight was there the dispatcher called me rapidly a half dozen times. When I answered on the wire he told me to 'bust' this order. I wrote 'bust it' across the order just as No. 5 was coming in. Conductor McAuliffe came in and asked me what the order board was out against him for. I told him that we had an order for him, but the dispatcher had 'busted' it. He asked me to hurry and write him a clearance order which I did. After the train had started and was out of my reach the dispatcher learned that the freight had left Wyoming. I told him I could not stop No. 5 as it had left. He immediately began calling Kings Court Junction, the station between Watford and Wanstead on the railroad wire and I tried to raise them on a commercial wire. We both failed to do this, however until after the express had passed the junction."

One of the most pathetic features of the wreck is the tribute loss sustained by the Bodley family of Port Huron in the death of Mrs. J. Bodley, sor Clem Bodley and granddaughter, Inth Lottie Lynch, who died at Victoria hospital. The bodies of two of the victims have been shipped to their sorrowing friends at home. The trunk of the, as yet, unidentified woman was located by the Grand Trunk official Sunday and arrived here about 10 o'clock Sunday night. It will be searched in an endeavor to find something with which to identify the woman.

For clearness of articulation there is no United States senator who can successfully compete with Mr. Burton, of Kansas. A Splendid Daily Paper.

The Christmas edition of the Morning Herald, published at Lexington, was the largest, most complete and handsomest newspaper ever issued from that city. And to get up this mammoth edition nothing was eliminated from the preceding issues of the paper, for every day it appeared in form from eight to 12 pages, its columns being filled with news of the blue grass region, Kentucky, general and foreign affairs, and over and above all, like the cream of a pan of rich milk, were the editorials of Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, which are everywhere conceded to be the most excellent, entertaining and instructive of modern times. Indeed the reader is reminded that Junius is again in the flesh, so elegant are they in diction. But for our limited space we could say a great deal more about this modern twentieth century journal. Suffice it, however, to state that with the beginning of this year The Herald will occupy more commodious and elegant quarters, in close proximity to the telegraph, express offices, principal hotel and main depot. It will have a Cox Duplex Angle Bar press, that will print 6,5000 of an 8-page 7-column paper an hour. Three Mergenthaler type-setting machines will be added, and the paper enlarged and improved. A sample copy for the asking.

Unconscious From Croup.

During a sudden and terrible attack of croup our little girl was unconscious from strangulation, says A. L. One Minute Cough Cure lingers in the throat and chest and enables the lungs to contribute pure, health giving oxygen to the blood.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Man Killed at Lee City.

The news came here Friday that Stuart Walters had shot and killed Robert Wilson at Lee City on Christmas day, and inquiry developed that the killing was thought to have been the result of an accident. Disposed that several young men were having a general Christmas carousal, shooting their pistols and incidentally shooting into their stomachs "that which stands among the brain." Finally Walters and Wilson became involved in a friendly wrangle, during which (it is claimed) Walter's weapon was discharged with the fatal wound to Wilson, who expired early next morning.

Later—Since the above was put in type we hear an altogether different story, from which it seems that Wilson, who was at home, at the solicitation of his wife went to the front door and fired his Winchester several times to amuse the children. Walters and some others were about 200 yards away, and Walters had a 45 Colts, with which he fired, the ball penetrating Wilson's left breast, just two inches below the nipple. Whether Walters thought Wilson was shooting at him and returned the fire, or whether he was shooting to see how far he could go, we have not been informed, but it is said he took "a rest" when he fired the shot that proved so fatal to Wilson. No arrests have been made.

"Wine of Cardui's miracle working to tired women. Having suffered for seven years with weakness and worn-down pains, and having tried several doctors and different remedies with no success, your Wine of Cardui was the only thing which helped me, and eventually cured me. It seemed to build up the weak parts, strengthen the system and correct irregularities."

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have disordered menses, falling of the womb, ovarian troubles or any of those ailments that women have. You can cure yourself at home with this great women's remedy, Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui has cured thousands of cases which doctors have failed to benefit. Why not begin to get well today? The good people in and about Spradling concerted the birth of Christ by a Sunday-school entertainment and a well-laden Christmas tree. Robert L. However, had we space we should do so as an act of courtesy.

J. F. Vansant, who has been circuit clerk, master commissioner and receiver of the Wolfe circuit court for 10 years past, has resigned both positions. Fulks as master commissioner and receiver. Mr. Vansant is one of the most efficient clerks in Kentucky and widely known as a prominent politician. Attention, County Judge.

The mail reading from Mrs. Sam Henry Wilson's over to the depot at Beauchamp is said to be an impassable quagmire, and people who have goods shipped to that station are every day propounding to some one the query, "Can't the county judge be sued for neglect of duty in this case?" We do not know whether that official is responsible or not, but opine that he is. He is vested with power to remedy the evil whether amenable to the law for not doing it or not, and a long-suffering constituency would be pleased to see him exert himself in that behalf.

Wonderful Nerve.

Is displayed by many a man suffering pains of accidents, Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sore Feet or Stiff Joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best salve on earth for piles, too. 25c. at J. T. Day's, Hazel Green, and E. E. Combs & Sons, Campton, drug stores.

One of the most acceptable of the gifts we received during the holiday season which closes today, and one for which the editor and his better seven-eighths are quite thankful, was a half-dozen plums, and partridges given us by Curtis Rose, the urbane freight agent of the Red River Valley Railway Co., at McCamsey, who spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rose, and incidentally spent a part of the time bird hunting.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.

Be sure that the picture is the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Gone to Prove Their Claims.

Mrs. F. N. Day left here Friday for Campton, where she joined a party of 30 or more, consisting of Sam Banks, Mrs. Frank Stamper, Ord Banks, Mrs. Kelly Fulks, Oscar McNaul and wife, John Cox, and others whose names were not learned. The whole party took the train at Beauchamp Saturday morning, their destination being some point in the Indian Territory where they go to register and prove that Indian blood courses through their veins. It appears that all of the crowd are descendants of a certain "Old Man" Harper who was half-blood Indian, and who registered in 1885. On establishing their claims each will be entitled to 640 acres of land, upon which each one must live three years to perfect his or her title, and a pro rata sum of money out of a fund that was deposited when Harper registered, and has since been accumulating. The claim on the whole is worth looking after, and Tax Hemmit hopes they may all realize their fondest expectations.

A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or overloaded. Kodol supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relieving the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood.

Best Shop in Eastern Kentucky.

Rose & Dunning this week got in their new gasoline engine along with some other machinery which with other machinery recently introduced gives them the best and most up-to-date shop in Eastern Kentucky for the manufacture of road wagons, which they make a specialty, and all other kinds of vehicles. With their machinery, both being practical mechanics and master ones at that, they can make most anything to be manufactured of wood and iron, and as they use only the best material in their work satisfaction is assured. They have been at great expense in equipping their shop and every man who needs a wagon or anything in their line of manufacture should give them his patronage, and especially since it has been proven that their wagons give better satisfaction, last longer and cost no more, material considered.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in stomach and liver troubles. They not only relieve, but cure. 25c. at J. T. Day's, Hazel Green, and E. E. Combs & Sons, Campton, drug stores.

There was a candy social at the home of Frank Oldfield, at Mize, on Saturday night last, and many young people of the neighborhood had quite an enjoyable time playing and dancing until 12 midnight. One room was devoted to plays by those who would not indulge in "tripping the light fantastic," and the dance went merrily on in another room at the same time.

Mrs. Emmons, saved from an operation for Ovaritis, tells how she was cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I am so pleased with the results I obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Conpound that I feel it a duty and a privilege to write you about it.

"I suffered for over five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks—and saved me from an operation—all my troubles had disappeared, and I found myself once more healthy and well. Words fail to describe the real, true grateful feeling that is in my heart, and I want to tell every sick and suffering sister. Don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and take my word for it, you will be a different woman in a short time."—MRS. LAURA EMMONS, Walkerville, Ont.

A FINE COUNTRY.

Resident of Ohio Says Western Canada is an Ideal Land for Farmers and Ranchers.

A delegate from Ohio to Western Canada says: "The whole of Western Canada seemed to me to be a very fine country, but I spent most of my time about thirty miles east of Lacombe, in Alberta, near what is popularly known as the coal banks on the Red Deer River, and I am very pleased to report that the country appears to be everything that the Agents of the Canadian Government have claimed for it. Good water can be obtained almost anywhere from 17 to 40 feet, and fed generally by springs. The natural hay and grass were magnificent in their growth and wild pea vines very heavy. I met some of my friends who moved there seven years ago and two brothers who had absolutely nothing on their arrival seven years before now own two and a half sections of land and 175 head of cattle. They told me that they did not feed their stock all winter, in fact, never saw them again until the spring, when they came home fat and without loss. I gathered oats 6 ft. 4 high and running from 75 to 100 bushels per acre. It appeared to me that all grasses, wild and cultivated, grow to perfection in any part of Alberta that I saw, and the farmers were cutting from two to three tons of wild hay to the acre. I found the climate very desirable in every respect, and I am told that the winter is the finest part of the year. There is plenty of coal and wood to be had near at hand for the hauling, and such is my satisfaction with the country that I acquired some land and have put a bunch of cattle thereon. I can confidently recommend Western Canada as a suitable place for farmers to immigrate to, and can assure them the kindest treatment by the people there, so much so that one does not distinguish the fact that we have left the boundaries of the United States."

Hugh Spender, of the Westminster Gazette, one of the British Journalists who visited Canada this summer (1902), says: "We fell in with a young farmer from Somersetshire, England, driving a binder round a hundred acre field of wheat in Western Canada. In conversation I found that he came from within fifteen miles of my old home in Somersetshire. Here was the very man we wanted. He had come to Manitoba ten years ago, with a capital of $12 on landing. In England he had been employed on a dairy farm, and earned eighteen shillings a week. He now owns 320 acres of land, his horses, buildings and cattle, and expects to have 4,000 bushels of wheat this season. We had heard of such things in the old land, but they did not seem credible, until we came to this living example of the strides that it is possible to make in Manitoba. Had this man remained in England, it is pretty safe to say he would still be earning no more than eighteen shillings a week, while in the same period in Manitoba he has become a substantial and prosperous farmer."

"I know a man who commenced in Assiniboia, 15 years ago, with no means; no capital. To-day this man owns 7,000 acres of land, some 30 horses, 30 or 40 bullocks, cows, etc. He has built a good stone house with his own hands, and has now married and is doing well, with every prospect of increasing his means in the future. Western Canada has the most exhilarating, bracing climate I ever knew. All that is required in the settler is perseverance, grit, patience and hard work. I will guarantee the country, if you will guarantee the man." From letter from a retired officer in the British army.

An Irish Refrigerator.

An Irish woman was looking at refrigerators in a housefurnishing store some weeks ago. After examining into the merits and qualities of a number of them, she purchased the one that the salesman assured her would keep food the best. Some days afterward the woman called and requested them to take that refrigerator back, as it would not keep anything better than the kitchen safe of the cellar. The salesman mildly suggested that possibly she had not put enough ice in it to keep the things cold. "Enough ice in it? Why, you are crazy, man. I don't put any ice in it. Anything will keep cold if you put ice in it. I bought the refrigerator so that I wouldn't need the ice."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Constipation Makes Bad Blood.

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC CURES CONSTIPATION

Constipation is the rotting and decaying of undigested food in the alimentary canal. Disease germs arise from this festering mass, which find their way into the blood. The blood becomes impure and shortly the entire system gives way to the unhealthy condition.

You cannot cure a case like this by taking pills or other common cathartics. A laxative will not do. A blood medicine is ineffective. Mull's Grape Tonic is a gentle and mild laxative in addition to being a blood-making and strength-giving tonic which immediately builds up the wasted body and makes rich, red blood that carries its health-giving strength to every tissue at every heart beat.

Mull's Grape Tonic is made of pure crushed fruit juices and is sold under a positive guarantee.

Doctors prescribe it. All druggists sell it at 50 cents a bottle.

I-PACK MY-TRUNK

WHAT shall I pack up to carry
From the Old Year to the New?
I'll leave out the frets that harry,
Thoughts unjust and doubts untrue.

Angry words—oh, how I rue them!
Selfish deeds and choices blind—
Anyone is welcome to them!
I shall leave them all behind.

Plans? the trunk would need be double.
Hopes? they'd burst the stoutest hide
Sharp ambitions! last year's stubble!
Take them, Old Year! keep them hid.

All my fears shall be forsaken,
All my failures manifold;
Nothing gloomy shall be taken
To the New Year from the Old.

My contentment, would 'twere greater!
All the courage I possess;
All my trust—there's not much weight there!
All my faith, or more or less.

And I'll pack my choicest treasure,
Smiles I've seen and praises heard,
Memories of unselfish pleasure,
Cheery looks, the kindly word.

Ah, my riches silence cavil!
To my rags I bid adieu!
Like the Croesus I shall travel
From the Old Year to the New.
—Amos R. Wells, in Washington Home Magazine.

OUR PERSONAL INTERESTS.

We Should Endeavor to Benefit from the Lesson That Experience Has Taught Us in the Past.

This assurance of the eternal verities of life and character is something to be truly thankful for, but it is not enough to be thankful—here is something to be eagerly embraced as a step in our own onward progress, writes D. H. R. Goodale, in Country Gentleman. Shall we give our whole lives to the cares of the body, however needful? Shall we not take more thought for the spiritual and intellectual life, in ourselves and in all those with whom we have to do? Will not the New Year give opportunities for a fuller and wider usefulness—happier and more generous activities? These are the things that make life better worth living. In true sympathy, in practical exertion for others as occasion offers, in self denial—for we are called upon to lend our voices, our hands and our purses when required—shall we not in the coming 12 months reach out more freely and extend the use of whatever gifts we possess? Can we not do better than ever before? Have we learned nothing in the past year or years? Have we neither made mistakes by which we can take warning nor gained clews which will serve to guide us?

A year that promises personal advance in the inward gains of experience—a year of earnest effort toward the best that we know, the highest truth that we are able clearly to perceive—cannot fail to be a good year. And it is never too late to take up threads that have been dropped, interests that have been crowded out in the hurry and amid the thronging duties of a busy life. It is a good time to think of them now—to recall the friend or relative or, alas! the friendless one whom we might perhaps have helped, but whom we have lost sight of among a host of pre-occupations. Who cannot recall some neglected or forgotten opportunities? It may be the golden hour is not quite gone. Will it not be a real good fortune if the New Year repairs the omission of the old? Better still if there are no palpable omissions to repair, but even in that case there may be room for many a good deed before unthought of. Every year may have its blessed beginnings.

NO NEW ONES FOR HIM.

Bradds—"Going to make any new resolutions this year, Spikes?"

Spikes—"New one? I should say not! I've got a lot of old ones I've never used, by jove!"—Chicago Daily News.

Wise Things to Do.

Let us go forward in this New Year with hope and trustfulness. Let us improve whatever opportunities for good and usefulness may come in our way. We can be happy ourselves in advancing the happiness of others. Let us cherish in our hearts all good desires and see to it that in this New Year they blossom into the flowers of good deeds. If it brings to us cares and trials, let us gather from them the precious fruits of patience and trustfulness. If the waves of sorrow break upon us, may we be lifted thereby nearer to the heavens. Let us go forward, then, with all gentleness and love, for He who has promised to be with us to the end is walking with us. God knows our every step, and guides it, too. What, then, have we to fear?

"Let us walk softly, friend,
For strange paths lie before us untrod;
The New Year, spotless from the hand of God,
Is thine and mine, O friend!"
—Christian Work.

His Economy.

"Is your husband going to make any new resolutions this year?" asked the visitor.

"I think not," answered the woman who had just been reminded that it would be necessary to economize; "I am afraid he will have to content himself with last year's, made over."—Washington Star.

CONQUERS PAIN

SPRAYING CORPORATIONS.

The Senator "Spattered" in His Speech and an Umbrella Was Called For.

Senator Spooner told a story the other day, in which the late Senator Ingalls and Senator Van Wyck, of Nebraska, figured. Van Wyck was making one of his characteristic speeches in attacking corporations. He had a peculiar style of delivery, and as he warmed to his subject it was his habit to move restlessly from one side of the chamber to the other, continually talking. He talked so fast that he often "sputtered," and senators were careful to keep out of range of the moisture he hissed through his closely-set teeth, says the Washington Post.

Mr. Ingalls and Mr. Spooner once sat directly in front of "Mr. Punch," as Senator Van Wyck was often called, because of his resemblance to that noted character, when he was delivering an impassioned utterance, and an atom of spray rested upon the hand of the immaculate Ingalls.

He adjusted his spectacles, carefully inspected his soiled hand, and deliberately signaled for one of the pages to come to him. Then in one of his famous whispers, which penetrated the entire chamber, Ingalls said:

"Boy, bring an umbrella for Senator Spooner and a rubber overcoat for me."

The incident provoked general laughter, but it did not interfere with Van Wyck's speech. He simply shifted his position so as to get beyond range of his always faultlessly dressed and sarcastic colleague.

A PROFESSIONAL OPINION.

The Advice of a Lawyer to His Barber, Who Was Cutting in on His Business.

A former judge, now practicing law, became interested when told by his favorite barber that the latter wanted to study, with a view to admission to the bar, relates the Philadelphia Times. The lawyer encouraged him in every way possible, lending him books and giving him an informal lesson while being shaved each morning. Soon the barber began putting hypothetical cases to his patron, who gravely, soundly and pains-takingly gave information as to correct procedure. After a time the ex-judge learned that the barber's cases were genuine—that, indeed, the fellow was acting as a cut-rate attorney for his friends, who invariably profited by following his advice. The following morning the barber opened up by putting what he described as an imaginary bit of litigation to the lather-covered lawyer, and then asked:

"Now, judge, what do you advise?"

"Let—me—see," replied the lawyer, musingly. Then: "Why, I advise that you come see me at the office, bring me a certified check for $100 as a fee, and I'll tell you how the case should be handled."

The Osage Indians have invested $8,000,000 in the state bank and own 1,500,000 acres of land. Each brave, squaw and papoose in the tribe possesses land to the value of $4,000, and the interest on their money in the bank affords an annual income of $300 to each member. That's great. RECORD OF THE PAST.

The best guarantee of the future is the record of the past, and over fifty thousand people have publicly testified that Doan's Kidney Pills have cured them of numerous kidney ills, from common backache to dangerous diabetes, and all the attendant annoyances and sufferings from urinary disorders. They have been cured to stay cured. Here is one case:

Samuel J. Taylor, retired carpenter, residing at 312 South Third St., Goshen, Ind., says: "On the 25th day of August, 1897, I made an affidavit before Jacob C. Mann, notary public, stating my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. I had suffered for thirty years and was compelled at times to walk by the aid of crutches, frequently passed gravel and suffered excruciatingly. I took every medicine on the market that I heard about, and some gave me temporary relief. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and the results I gave to the public in the statement above referred to. At this time, on the 19th day of July, 1902, I make this further statement, that during the five years which have elapsed I have had no occasion to use either Doan's Kidney Pills or any other medicine for my kidneys. The cure effected was a permanent one."

A FREE TRIAL of this great Kidney medicine which cured Mr. Taylor will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson in the International Series for January 4, 1903—Paul and Silas at Philippi.

THE LESSON TEXT.

(Acts 16:22-34.)

22. And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them.

23. And when they had lain many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely:

24. Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

25. And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God; and the prisoners heard them.

26. And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone's bands were loosed.

27. And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.

28. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here.

29. Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas.

30. And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved?

31. And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.

32. And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33. And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway.

34. And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

PLACE.—Philippi.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Paul at Philippi.—When we left our study of the beginning of the Christian church and of missions to turn back to the Old Testament, Paul had made one missionary journey and was in the midst of a second. He and Silas, with two younger workers, Timothy and Luke, had just crossed to Europe and begun work at Philippi, and here we find them at the opening of to-day's lesson.

Remember that the missionaries, now, in the midst of Paul's second journey, found almost no Jews in Philippi, and no synagogue, but only a very simple "place of prayer," down by the river, which may not have been a building at all. There was a poor deranged slave girl in Philippi, who, because of her strange, wild utterances, had gained a great reputation as a fortune-teller and oracle. They said she had a "Python-spirit," referring to the mythical Python or dragon that was supposed to inspire the Delphic oracle. "Most High God" and "salvation" were both common pagan expressions. In some way her poor, darkened mind was impressed by the earnestness of the missionaries, and she followed them about constantly, uttering the cry spoken of in 16:17. When Paul, annoyed at her calling, and pitying the girl, ordered the spirit to leave her, she lost her power completely, and her owners lost their fees.

Paul and Silas, as the most prominent of the missionaries, were arrested and taken before the magistrates by these men, simply because they wanted to "get even." The charge made had nothing to do with their grievance, but appealed (1) to prejudice against Jews; (2) to the desire for law and order; (3) to loyalty to the Roman government. "Rent their garments off them:" Stripped them for the beating. "The inner prison:" A small cell with only one opening, and that into the outer prison. "Praying and singing hymns:" The missionaries never allowed the sufferings and sorrows of the moment to make them forget their joy in the service of Christ, which was infinitely greater than their sorrow. "The prisoners were listening:" Picture the whole scene for yourself—the loathsome prison, the midnight darkness, the perfect stillness, except for the far-away sound of singing in the inner prison, and then the strange rumbling in the earth, the earthquake, the partial wrecking of the prison, the panic of the prisoners and the rushing up to the assistance of the jailer of men with lights.

"What must I do to be saved:" Such experiences turn one's thoughts to serious things. "Believe:" This meant, in Paul's usage, to take Christ as what He claimed to be, and to act accordingly, that is, to trust and follow and love Him always. "And thy house:" Paul does not mean that for the jailer's belief the household shall be saved, but that belief in Christ is the condition of salvation for him and them alike.

The magistrates may have been influenced by a further investigation of the trouble of the day before, or they may have connected the earthquake of the night with their treatment of the two religious teachers.

ASIATIC NOTES.

The smallest flowering plant is a kind of Indian duckweed, known as Wolffia microscopica.

Next to coffins the greatest use for lumber in China is in building boats, and it is safe to say that the number of crafts runs into millions.

Water is so scarce in the Japanese island of Oshima that it is the custom for a bride to take a large tub of drinking water with her to her new home as a kind of dowry.

In East Indian schools mental arithmetic is a vastly more serious matter than it is in the schools of this country. Catch questions are numerous, and pupils of ten years are taught to carry the multiplication table up to forty times forty.

There is a reminiscence of a very old epitaph, says the London Globe, in the statement of an Indian newspaper that in northern India a tombstone stands to the memory of a good missionary, with these words: "He translated the Scriptures into Pushtoo, and was accidentally shot by his khitmutghar. Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Peruna in the House for Catarrhal Diseases.

MR. AND MRS. J. O. ATKINSON, INDEPENDENCE, MO.

UNDER date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife had been suffering from a complication of diseases for the past 25 years.

"Her case had baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing.

"She also was passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life. In June, 1895, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peruna and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her. She firmly believes that she would have been dead only for these wonderful remedies.

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of 25 years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Peruna according to your instructions, and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me.

"Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more. Catarrh cannot exist where Peruna is taken according to directions. Success to you and your remedies."

John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Peruna:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peruna. In my rounds as a traveling man I am a walking advertisement for Peruna and have induced many people during the past year to use Peruna with the most satisfactory results. I am still cured of catarrh."

John O. Atkinson,
Box 272, Independence, Mo.

When old age comes on, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

This explains why Peruna has become so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safe-guard. Peruna is the only remedy yet devised that meets these cases exactly.

Such cases cannot be treated locally; nothing but an effective systemic remedy could cure them. This is exactly what Peruna is.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
